

Aunt Janes Nieces in the Red Cross

Aunt Janes Nieces in the Red Cross is a young-adult novel by L. Frank Baum, written under the pen name Edith Van Dyne and the tenth and final book in the Aunt Janes series. This is the story of how three brave American girls sacrificed the comforts and luxuries of home to go abroad and nurse the wounded soldiers of a foreign war. The character of Doctor Gys is not greatly exaggerated but had its counterpart in real life. As for the little Belgian who had no room for scruples in his active brain, his story was related to me by an American war correspondent who vouched for its truth. The other persona in the story are known to those who have followed their adventures in other books of the Aunt Janes Nieces series. Edith van Dyne L. Frank Baum was an author of childrens books, best known for writing The Wonderful Wizard of Oz. He wrote 55 novels in total, plus four lost novels, 83 short stories, over 200 poems, and more.
