

The Way Forward

The Way Forward: A descriptive writing so poetic and yet detailed, that can only be compared to Haruki Marakami style of writing with the melancholy of William Golding. A story of seven stages of life - or maybe it isn't? It's a story left purely to your own emotional portrayal - something that once read, will inevitably be re-read and thought about for days and weeks to come... This short story, is something of an exceptional piece of descriptive writing which hits at your very core. A must read!
