

The Transactions of the Canadian Mining Institute, Vol. 17: 1914 (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from The Transactions of the Canadian Mining Institute, Vol. 17: 1914I do not propose to weary you with a formal address, but shall instead, with your permission, comment briefly on the recent progress of the Canadian Mining Institute and of the industry it represents. Before doing so, however, may I take this opportunity, since at the close of this meeting I shall retire from the office which, by your suffrage, I have occupied for two successive years, to express my appreciation of the honour I have received at your hands and to thank you for your indulgence, your loyalty, and your sympathetic and ready cooperation on all occasions. To be president of the Canadian Mining Institute is a liberal education. By reason of it I believe myself to be a better and a broader-minded man. I can only say that during my term of office I have had but one end in mind. My aim has been to advance the objects and promote the interests of the Institute; and I am proud to say that, in consequence of the support and assistance so freely and generously given me by my colleagues on the Council and by the members generally, that these efforts have not been entirely resultless. The increase in membership during the past two years has been eminently satisfactory. It represents an increase of approximately twenty-two per cent.; but these figures do not adequately indicate the gain in another and important direction. Thus in the early history of the Institute, and even in later boom times many became associated with the society to promote solely their private ends. They had no real sympathy with the objects of the Institute and when it ceased to serve their purpose they withdrew, or ceased to pay their fees.About the PublisherForgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
