

This is a story about The Hedgehog, gentle creature of nature, who is defending and taking care of his humble home. He is brave and honorable little hedgehog, who lives in the forest and protects his house, his way of living and his freedom. Some other animals in the woods are making laughs and fun of him, but they do not understand why he loves his home. The Fox, The Bear, The Wolf and The Wild Boar cannot figure out why the home is, so important, when there are many other more valuable, more important and more interesting things in the world than simple home. This book can teach us about the life itself and some important things which we sometimes took for granted. This story is written as a poem in rhymes. The book is bilingual in English and Bosnian Languages.
