

Life Points

Whether you're a businessperson, parent, student, or athlete, life can be confusing. If you don't have the information you want, it can be frustrating. But if you don't have the direction you need, it can be devastating. Life Points has been written to add the directives needed to set your life on a course of success. Among other things, by implementing the individual directives, you'll learn the importance of: -Surrounding oneself with the right people -Understanding that personal freedom comes from personal discipline -Choosing your battles -Living a balanced life -Taking chances ... and so much more. By systematically following the enclosed directives, you will have the motivation, information, and plans to accomplish so much more in your life. Life Points will give you the foundation you need to launch your life in a direction that will be fulfilling, exciting, and successful.
